Yes, this is the latest version of the eligible post codes. On the website here you can find more detailed maps of different wards with a red line for the CLLD boundary. You should be able to download them and zoom in if there are ever any doubts about any address. Sometimes there are post codes (e.g. for new builds) that have not been included in our list but are clearly within the boundary when you look at the detailed maps – then these post codes are eligible – you just need to be 100% sure that they are inside the red boundary line.

Hope this helps.

Cheers

Hello again

Can you also confirm this is the full (and up to date) eligibility area - the map in the handbook is unclear. Is every postcode on this list eligible?

Thank you!
